INTRO

Drinking cocktails is a luxury. And the best possible way to enjoy the most out of it while sipping a perfectly crafted cocktail is equally crafted glass with the precision to perfection. Luxury glassware elevates the dining and drinking experience with its exceptional quality, craftsmanship, and aesthetic appeal. The glass in your hand is made from premium materials like lead-free crystal, known for its brilliance and clarity. Intricate hand-crafted designs and details set it apart from mass-produced alternatives.

ERIK LORINCZ

Erik Lorincz, a globally celebrated bartender and the mastermind behind London's renowned cocktail bar Kwānt Mayfair, is known for blending tradition with modernity in both his bartending approach and his design philosophy. With a career spanning decades, Erik has earned recognition for his remarkable skills, including winning the prestigious Diageo World Class Bartender of the Year award in 2010. His journey began in Slovakia, where his passion for mixology took root, later blossoming at iconic venues like The American Bar at The Savoy Hotel in London.

His design philosophy for the Erik Lorincz Collection by RONA glassware is deeply influenced by Japanese minimalism — a style that focuses on simplicity, clean lines, and a sense of quiet elegance. Drawing inspiration from Japanese design principles, Erik creates pieces that are not just functional, but thoughtful and serene in their beauty. Each glass in the collection is a testament to the Japanese ethos of "wabi-sabi" — celebrating the beauty in imperfection and the quiet elegance of minimal design. The use of premium lead-free crystal ensures clarity and brilliance, while the sleek, minimalist lines reflect the timelessness of Japanese aesthetic values.

By incorporating these elements, Erik's glassware elevates the drinking experience to an art form. Every detail, from the curvature of the glass to the balance of its weight, is meticulously designed to enhance the sensory experience of sipping a cocktail. This collection is a perfect marriage of Japanese-inspired minimalism, impeccable craftsmanship, and Lorincz's passion for elevating the fine art of mixology.
